

Secrets Of The Movies Revealed

Q. What is done when the film gives out in the camera while a picture is being made?
A. The word "hold" is given when all actors hold their positions. They do not move until the film is renewed in the camera and the director calls "runners."

Q. Where was Monroe Salisbury born?
A. Monroe Salisbury was born in New York. His first film appearance was in 1913 in a Lasky production made at Hollywood, California, when that town was almost unheard of in the movie world.

Q. How does Tamar Lane pronounce his first name?
A. It is pronounced "Tum-are."

Q. Where did Nigel Barry begin his career and what was his occupation during the war?
A. He was a member of the Royal Flying Corps and piloted his own machine after his six hours' instruction. He began his stage career in England, playing with Julia Neilson, and in the United States with Grace George. He started in pictures as a serial actor. Barry obtained his black hair from his Irish mother—also his wit.

Q. Where was Spottiswoode Allen born and has he any children on the screen?
A. Allen, who came from Edinburgh, and his wife are both old favorites of the screen and stage. Mrs. Allen is a member of the famous theatrical Cordova family in France, which family has been before the footlights for the past hundred years. The Allens have two children on the screen, Frances, and "Spot." Jr.—Copyright.
